SCREAMER CONTENT

A screamer, also known as a Jumpscare or scary pop-up, is a type of game, video, website, or program that aims to scare and startle viewers by tricking them into focusing on the screen before revealing a sudden and often frightening change.
Most screamers use a combination of creepy or unsettling images and loud, sudden noises to create a sense of shock and fear in the viewer.

Most of the screamers in PROTOTYPECROSS2 are mostly images of "scary" images. Here's a list of the images:

* A image of a man in a bear costume on a rocking chair.
* A image of a teddy bear.
* A image of Regan MacNeil from The Exorcist.
* A screencap of Homer melting from a Simpsons episode.
* Ahenobarbus Henocided.
* A image of a painting of a house.

There are also forum threads of PROTOTYPECROSS2 that have been since deleted for unknown reasons. All of these threads are not available on the Wayback Machine because they were not archived. Only two threads were recovered. Most of the users involved were happysam101, lileepcopy and IronicIsaacHD.

The image linked above was from happysam101 and lileepcopy's thread.
